

SheilaMarie

I've always been involved in artistic and creative ventures.

I owned a stained glass studio for a dozen years, teaching, designing and creating commissions for custom home builders and individuals. Next, I became involved with a start-up baby product company where I worked for 25 years. My role was Director of Operations. I built relationships with manufacturers, developed processes for operations, designed fabrics for product, developed, designed and patented baby products.

I quit my job of 25 years in Dec. of 2014 and am now devoting full time to my growth in fine art working in oil.

I've participated in workshops:

Kathleen Dunphy                      Josh Been
Keith Bond                                John Poon
